KEHOE

Spoke at Louisa Last Friday to Appreciative Audience.

This unswerving Democrat, able Representative and warm friend of our Big Sandy and our people, was in Louisa last Friday. He had spoken at Yatesville in the forenoon to a large and enthusiastic crowd, and arriving here late he had but little time for meeting the people before the hour of speaking at the Court House. Notwithstanding the fact that the day was an off day, so to speak, Mr. Kehoe had a good crowd, an appreciative and very enthusiastic one. And the speech he made was pronounced by competent judges of both parties to be the best campaign speech ever made in Louisa, and this is very high praise. One old-time Democrat, whose business had unfortunately, as he said, taken him out of town on all other times when Mr. Kehoe spoke in Louisa, said that he—Kehoe—had made some matters clear to him, which before he had not been able to understand. The speech was calm, dispassionate, bristling with facts and figures which didn't lie, and entirely convincing.

It is the bounden duty of the people of Lawrence county to show their appreciation of such a man as Mr. Kehoe, and they can best do this by casting their votes for him and send him to the Congress of the United States as their Representative. He will represent all classes and all elements, the friend of all and the enemy of none.

Thirty-Five Novembers.

The following data, covering a period of thirty-five years, have been compiled from the weather records at this locality. They are issued to show the conditions that have prevailed during November for the above period of years, but must not be construed as a forecast of the weather conditions for the coming month.

Mean or normal temperature, 46 degrees; warmest month was that of 1902, with an average of 54 degrees; coldest month was that of 1890, with an average of 37 degrees; highest temperature was 79 degrees on the 6th, 1895; lowest temperature was 4 degrees, on the 29th, 1872; earliest date on which first "killing" frost occurred in autumn, September 24; average date on which first "killing" frost occurred in autumn, October 29; average date on which last "killing" frost occurred in spring, April 6 latest date on which last "killing" frost occurred in spring, May, 14.

Doing Lecture Work.

Mr. W. T. Kane, of this county, is now in the employ of the Agricultural department as a lecturer and is on a tour of the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky, with Mr. Johnson and associates, who were in Louisa early in October. Mr. Kane joined the party at Whitesburg Monday of last week. Two days are spent in each county lecturing and organizing Farmer's Institutes.

Mr. Kane is thoroughly informed on farming and live stock subjects and has experimented sufficiently with various products to be able to speak from experience as to what may be accomplished in this mountain section. The department could not have secured a better equipped man for Institute work in the mountains.

McCreary and Beckham.

When all sides of the Senatorial race in Kentucky and the political situation in general are considered it is difficult to see why any Democrat who is not under personal obligation to Mr. Beckham should vote for him in the primary next Tuesday. On account of the complications into which Gov. Beckham has become involved during his administration there can be doubt that he will prove to be a weaker candidate before the whole people when the facts are fully known than is Senator McCreary. With Beckham out of the way, all machine talk and charges are at an end. Whatever there may be in the nature of a "machine" will thereby be destroyed. Percy Haley will no longer be in authority. Through the influence of Hager, Percy has already been dethroned, so far as the State Committee is concerned. He should never have reached the position he once attained in the management of affairs. He has not the right kind of a reputation. Yet he is Beckham's closest adviser and was appointed by the Governor as one of the three members of the State Board of Control. This Board is one of the most important in the State because it has control of the hundreds of the thousands of dollars spent annually in buying supplies for the State prisons, Feeble-minded Institute, asylums, etc. None but the best men should be put in such a position.

In Louisville the temperance people are now very much in doubt as to the Governor's sincerity in their behalf and thousands of them have decided that he has been playing them for their votes. Some of the ministers are outspoken against him because of this condition.

So it looks like bad politics to choose him in preference to a man who has a clean record and is free from these handicaps.

Senator McCreary is a credit to his State. He is decent morally and politically, and naught can be truthfully said against him. His services have been earnestly and honestly rendered. He attends strictly to business and looks closely after the interest of his constituency. Every citizen of the State who writes him or visits him receives prompt attention. There is absolutely no complaint to file against him and it would be wrong to turn him out. One more term is doubtless all that he wants or would accept. "Kentucky should do the wise thing and give it to him."

A Partisan Democrat

Got a Deserved Pounding.

When people so conduct themselves in the opinion of the public nothing will do them so much good as a real pounding, they ought to get it. So last Friday night a demonstrative crowd, armed and equipped as the law directs, repaired to the residence of Rev. O. F. Williams and gave him and his wife just what they deserved. Pounds of coffee, pounds of sugar, pounds of butter, pounds of everything to eat and to use. Tables were loaded, chairs piled up, and rooms strewn with all that would comfort and delight the inner man. Thus practically and concretely did the minister's flock show their tangible appreciation of their worthy shepherd. To change the figure, they believed the laborer worthy of more than his hire, and a well filled larder is the result.

An unlucky accident occurred at Round Bottom Monday when Lee Cyrus and John Large two prominent citizens became involved. It seems that the two men were examining an old army gun belonging to the farmer when a load which had been left in the gun went off, striking Mr. Cyrus and inflicting a deep flesh wound.

It is announced at the Post-office Department that hereafter the delivery of mail by rural carrier will be permitted to persons residing not less than one-quarter of a mile from post-offices at unincorporated towns or villages, provided such persons will erect boxes on rural routes.

Luther Damron, who was the foreman of the water-pipe gang when the Louisa waterworks were in process of construction, was here several days recently. He has a good position in the street car service in Pittsburg and visited his Louisa friends while on vacation.

BIG SALE.

Northern Coal and Coke Company Passes Into New Hands.

One of the biggest transactions in coal lands for some time has just been concluded in Chicago, when the Northern Coal and Coke Company of Kentucky passed into the control of the Williams and Chisholm interests, of Duluth, Minn. Ex-United States Senator J. N. Camden, of Parkersburg, W. Va., President of the company, who, with Vice President C. W. Watson, carried through the deal, passed through the city yesterday morning. The property consists of 300,000 acres located in Letcher, Pike, Knott and Floyd counties, Kentucky and is said to be one of the most valuable coal properties in the country.

One of the heaviest stockholders in the company was J. C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, Ky. The value of the deal is about $4,000,000. The property is said to be worth about $7,500,000, and the Duluth parties secure a controlling interest. Eugene Zimmerman, formerly President of the C. H. and D., and some Eastern friends own about one tenth of the stock of the old company, but whether or not they will let go their holdings is not known. The new company will meet for the election of officers at Parkersburg, W. Va., on December 4.

When asked what the Duluth purchasers, who are among the biggest iron men in the West, intended to do with the property, Mr. Mayo said he did not know how or when they would develop it. The former owners of the Northern Coal and Coke Company are likely to keep a substantial amount of the stock, although the control has passed from their hands. Cincinnati Enquirer.

It is said that J. W. M. Stewart will continue as general manager of the company.

Married Thursday.

A telegram from Capt. Ben F. Thomas, of Cincinnati, came to Judge Jas. H. McConnell, Thursday evening, announcing the marriage of his daughter, Miss Frances, to Mr. Adelbert J. Crowell, of Catlettsburg. Miss McConnell had been visiting her cousin, Miss Heloise Thomas, for the past week, and it was at her home the wedding took place Thursday at high noon. Those witnessing the ceremony were Capt. and Mrs. Ben F. Thomas, Miss Heloise Thomas and George F. Gunnell, of Catlettsburg, who is now located in Cincinnati.

Mr. Crowell and bride are popular young people, and have a host of friends who extend congratulations and the very best wishes for a bright and happy future. They will remain in Cincinnati several days as the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas, before returning home.

Mrs. Crowell is a niece of Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. James Lackey and has many friends in this city.

A local paper says "few trees have lost their leaves, the frost being just severe enough to color them nicely." The frost has little to do with the coloring of leaves. The coloring is the result of the natural process of the death of the leaf, depending much upon the heat and moisture or the cold and dryness of the atmosphere. In countries where frost is seldom or never seen the deciduous leaves showing in the fall most beautiful shades of color.

At nine o'clock this morning a pretty wedding took place at the Hotel Florence. The contracting parties were W. L. Cordle, and Cora Borders, both now residing in Ohio, but formerly of Lawrence county, Ky. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Z. Meek—Catlettsburg Tribune.

Rowland Spencer, of Kise station, and W. D. Short, of Louisa, were the guests of Dr. W. T. Atkinson, Wednesday for dinner, at Paintsville. Mr. Spencer is in the merchandise business at Kise, while Mr. Short is in the hickory handle business at Louisa.

The friends of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Reynolds, of Mt. Sterling, will be glad to hear that their son Franklin's injuries received from the kick of a pony are not so serious as was first reported.

The Mystery of the Trunk.

On last Monday, the Olympic Vaudeville Company came to this city for an engagement of two nights at the Masonic Hall. They had a good lot of "properties" and a considerable amount of baggage, mostly trunks. When all had been made ready for action the stage was cleared of superfluous articles, including several large trunks which, for lack of room, were set outside the hall. During the night one of these trunks was stolen, but it was not missed until some time Tuesday, and it had not been found when the troupe left Wednesday morning for Prestonsburg. The trunk contained wearing apparel belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Pollock, valued, so it is said, at least $150. Some sort of a clue must have been obtained, for a search was made along the river bank near a lane leading from Lock avenue to the river, and numerous articles of clothing, skirts, waists, etc., belonging to Mrs. Pollock were found. These and some other things were carried to the Police Court room to await developments which seem sure to come.

Wednesday some gentlemen were up the river fishing near the "Rocks." While thus engaged they found a large trunk, partially filled with brick and sunk in the river. They reported the finding, and it proved to be the stolen and rifled property of the Pollocks. Yesterday morning it was taken to the city building, and every effort is being made to find out who the bold thieves are and effect their capture. An umbrella which was attached to the trunk has been brought in, and this, it is thought, may afford a valuable clue.

The Telephone.

The work now being done in Louisa very naturally makes our citizens think of the uses of the telephone and the many changes and improvements which have been made in its construction and mode of operation since the first "hello" rang over the wires. John Vaughan in the September Scribner speaks in this interesting fashion of what Central does:

To-day instead of turning a crank to get "Central's" attention you simply put the receiver to your ear. Lifting the receiver off the hook lights a tiny electric lamp in the exchange.

The light goes out when the switch-board operator thrusts into your line's answering Jack a metal plug, the tip of the answering cord, one of a pair of thread-covered wire cords associated with your line. The calling cord's tip, plugged into the multiple jack of the number you give to "Central," lights another small lamp, termed a supervisory lamp. Pressing a key rings the bell of the given number—that is, of the subscriber with whom you desire to talk.

When he takes up his receiver his supervisory lamp goes out. Hence, there is no lamp alight while the conversation is in progress. The return of your receiver to its hook lights your supervisory lamp. When the other subscriber hangs up his receiver his supervisory lamp lights again.

Both lamps again apprise the operator that the conversation is closed. She pulls the cords out of the jacks disconnecting the lines.

Not a word of your conversation has been heard, not a second of time has been wasted. What a change from the telephoning of pioneer days—the days of Edison's battery, crank ringing, hollering for "Central," bad language and the twenty-mile limit.

The society editress of the NEWS, ever on the watch for everything new in the realms of fashion, learns that at a recent High Jinks affair certain young ladies "added zest and beauty to the occasion as flutters" what she wants to know is, what is a "flutterer?" Don't everybody in Catlettsburg answer at once.

The mere fact that a great many people have been in the habit of using a railroad trestle as a footbridge and that the railroad company had made no complaint, says the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, does not give the people any special rights on the bridge or compel the railroad company to exercise a special degree of care for their safety.

The New Mill.

The Big Sandy Milling Co. is the name adopted by the new company that now owns and operates Louisa's up-to-date flouring mill, of which John G. Burns is manager.

The mill is equipped with the very latest and best machinery, so that there is nothing in the entire country that surpasses it. The capacity is fifty barrels per day. The mill was just put into operation last week and is now doing nicely. A great deal of wheat has been brought in already and much more will follow soon. The extremely wet season has damaged wheat in this section very materially, and it will probably be impossible to get the best results from all of it.

The power for the mill is furnished by a large gas engine and it is proving very satisfactory.

A visit to this important enterprise will interest anyone. The basement and three floors above are full of rapidly revolving machinery, which automatically handles the grain in all the stages of its conversion into flour. The product travels from the bottom to the top of the mill and some of it repeats the circuit until the almost human equipment decides that it is fit to go to the customer, when it delivers the various grades—from bran to high patent flour—to the respective receptacles provided for them.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 25. — It is proposed by members of the last Constitutional Convention of Kentucky that a reunion of the members of that body be held at the State capital some time during the summer of 1907. The matter of holding a reunion was suggested here yesterday at a gathering of several of the members, among them being John D. Carroll, of Henry; W. C. McChord, of Washington; Judge J. C. Beckham, of Shelby; and Judge W. M. Beckner, of Clark county. They decided to write the living members of the convention and take up the matter of holding a reunion.

The controversy as to who was the youngest soldier of the Civil War probably has been settled in favor of Perry Ryan, of Seattle, Wash. He enlisted as a drummer boy in Company D, Twenty-fourth Iowa volunteers, on August 22, 1862, at the age of 9 years and 10 months. After serving nearly a year he was honorably discharged on a surgeon's certificate of disability. The Pensions Office has found that his representations are correct. He will receive a tidy sum as back pension.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 27. — The disbarment proceedings against Judge W. M. Beckner, of this city, were called this afternoon before the Hon. Overton Harris, of Louisville, who was appointed as Special Judge by Gov. Beckham.

D. L. Pendleton, as attorney for Judge George B. Nelson, and the Hon. T. G. Stewart, brought the matter before the court, and Judge Nelson made the opening statement for the plaintiffs.

Former Senator William Lindsay, of New York, counsel for Judge Beckner, made an argument when Judge Overton postponed further proceedings until Wednesday, and directed that the Commonwealth's Attorney for this district be directed to file information in legal form by that time. As the latter officer is busy holding court in another county, D. L. Pendleton was authorized to act for him in the matter. Judge Beckner is represented by former Senator Lindsay and Judge Lewis Apperson, of Mt. Sterling, and has requested Judge Harris to push the trial as speedily as possible.

Some time ago Col. T. G. Stuart and Col. H. P. Thompson each secured judgment against Archer Harman for large amounts on account of real estate transactions, and these judgments were affirmed by the Kentucky Court of Appeals. Harman now lives in England, and it is alleged that, in proceedings in the English court growing out of the Kentucky judgments, Judge Beckner swore to an affidavit reflecting on the integrity of some of the Kentucky Judges, and the disbarment proceedings have grown out of this.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered liver.

All who were in the first two cars were drowned. Some of those in the third car escaped, but just how many has not been established. The number of dead will not be definitely known until the submerged cars are raised and the bodies taken out. A wrecking crew and divers are engaged in this work. It is said there were fully one hundred persons on the train, about twenty-five of whom escaped from the rear coach. There are also a number of injured.

GULLION

Candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

DEALS MILDLY WITH OPPONENT

Corrects Misrepresentations in a Most Emphatic Way—He Also Presents Remarkably Strong Facts in Support of His Candidacy.

To the Democrats of Kentucky:

A most unexpected and unjust charge has been brought against me by my opponent in the race for superintendent of public instruction. If the charge were true it should defeat me. If it is false the Democrats of Kentucky should know it in order that justice may be done to me. The charge is that I am unfriendly to the new state normal schools.

He says in a letter to county superintendents of schools: "Mr. Gullion is strongly endorsed by those who have fought state normal schools." From that text he argues that this contest "becomes a fight between the advocates of state normal schools on one side and the enemies of those institutions on the other."

E. A. GULLION.

His animus is so apparent that I need not argue the matter. I simply place alongside his ridiculous and impotent charge the following "card," and fair-minded Democrats may do the rest:

A CARD.

To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. E. A. Gullion spent a great deal of time at Frankfort during the legislative session of 1905-6, and took an active interest in school legislation, being especially desirous of passing the normal school bill. He has for a number of years been a strong factor in educational progress.

This September 20, 1906.

W. P. THORNE,
S. E. DEHAVEN,
H. K. BOURNE.

I heartily concur in the above.
JAS. H. FUQUA,
Superintendent Public Instruction,
Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 21, 1906.

If other proof than that of the lieutenant governor, Senator DeHaven, Representative Bourne and the distinguished superintendent of public instruction is required it shall be furnished. Who oppose the state normal schools? They cannot be found. The bill creating them passed unanimously and, as shown above, I did all in my power to promote its passage, having been at Frankfort more than 50 days during the 60-day session of the general assembly and in constant contact with the senators and representatives. Not to have supported the normal school measure would have been to stultify my entire record, for I have advocated normal schools in my newspaper and before the Kentucky Educational association for more than 20 years.

In all the literature I have sent out I have pledged myself to the normal schools in the following language:

"It shall be my highest and most cherished ambition to foster and develop the state's normal schools until they shall be adequate for all and good enough for the best—unsurpassed by those of any other state."

That language should have been plain enough to my opponent to have prevented a falsification of my position on normal schools.

As to Character.

In the same letter to superintendents the gentleman asks for an opportunity to defend himself against any aspersion of his character that any one might make. If I have to win this race by attacking his character then I will lose the race, for I would scorn to do such a thing. Nor will any true friend of mine offend in that particular. However, it is the privilege and the duty of every Democrat to investigate the character and competency of both of us before voting.

Not a Popularity Contest.

My opponent publishes in black type that his chief clerk would be a clever and competent gentleman who has been in the service of the state for 25 years at a high salary when on duty. He makes the alliance at the eleventh hour to bolster his failing fortunes in the race. If there is any reason why this well paid official of 25 years (and who never has to beg for lucrative positions) should be preferred over the young gentleman I have selected for the place, it is not apparent. My appointee will be Mr. Walter Crady, a clean, competent, industrious and faithful young man, who is now second clerk in Superintendent Fuqua's office. He has learned the clerical duties of the office well, and all say he has earned and merits promotion. But this race is not a popularity contest between candidates for state superintendent, whose duties are widely different from those of a clerk and very much more difficult. A machine can add a column of figures. Efficient superintendents are the exception.

Evidence of Fitness. I have taught in schools ranging from the common school in the beech woods to the lower classes in one of our leading colleges; have taught in high school and have been an instructor in county normals.

For more than 20 years I have been attending the State Teachers' association and in 1896 was president of that honorable body. The published proceedings and addresses show that I was active in all movements for the betterment of public schools, originating some of them. This is particularly true as to the agitation for normal schools, longer school terms, better school houses, modern equipment, etc.

As chairman of a committee appointed by the Kentucky Educational association, I pressed upon the general assembly divers amendments looking to those ends and procured their passage. It is not arrogating too much to myself to say that I have spent more time before the Kentucky legislature in promoting common school legislation than any other private citizen. It was a labor of love on my part, for never did I ask, and never was paid a cent for my expenses, or for the sacrifice of my time that I made.

I am the author of the plan by which short-term schools were abolished and wrote the amendment that effectuated the plan. I was also largely instrumental in bringing about most of the other beneficial changes that have been made in the school laws.

If the people make me their next state superintendent I shall devote whatever talent and energy I have to the great work in which are centered the dearest interests of the children and of the commonwealth, guaranteeing that we shall materially lengthen our cords and strengthen our stakes educationally.

The statements I have made are offered to the public with some temerity, lest I be charged with egotism. However, they seem necessary in order to show that by experience and service I have a peculiar fitness for the most honorable office the people can bestow—the state superintendency.

Respectfully,

E. A. GULLION,

Candidate for Supt. Public Instruction.

WRITES OPEN LETTER.

Hon. James H. Fuqua to the Democrats of Kentucky.
Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 4, 1906.

To the Friends of Education:

I am writing you in the interest of Mr. E. A. Gullion of Henry county, candidate for superintendent of public instruction. It has been my pleasure to know Mr. Gullion during his long service as county superintendent of Carroll county and as editor of a paper at New Castle. In both positions he has been an ardent advocate of improved education, in latter years using the columns of his paper advancing the cause of Kentucky schools.

During my term of office many improvements have been made in education. Two normal schools have been established; the term increased from five to six months; the per capita has grown to $3.30, the largest in the history of the state. I have planned much other work that will greatly redound to the benefit of the schools and if elected I am satisfied that Mr. Gullion will push these plans to execution. I shall remain in school work as a member of his state board of examiners and as such will be closely identified with the cause of education.

Thanking you for your co-operation in the past and trusting that you will help Mr. Gullion in the state primary November 6, I beg to remain yours very truly,

JAS. H. FUQUA, SR.,
Superintendent Public Instruction.

What Others Say.

Other able school men have written in regard to Mr. Gullion's candidacy, as follows:

Professor J. T. English, Harrods Creek, Ky., a widely known teacher: "We need somebody at the head of the school system who has the knack of doing things; of getting out of the time-worn rut. You are unquestionably the man. Your record in school work proves it."

Z. F. Smith, formerly superintendent of public instruction: "Your personal qualifications and your long training as teacher and county superintendent well fit you for the duties of state superintendent. Knowing you so well, I have every confidence that you will faithfully and ably administer the affairs of the office. Hence, I will heartily give you my support and wish you complete success."

Professor C. A. Leonard, superintendent Cynthia schools: "I hope you will announce at once and make a thorough canvass of the state; I shall work for you."

Professor W. H. Bartholomew, principal Girls' High school, Louisville: "A friend of public instruction when the cause needed friends. Gullion merits the honor of the superintendency."

President Jas. K. Patterson, State College, Lexington: "I say without reserve that I know of no man who has done better work than yourself."

To All Democratic Voters.

If there ever was a time in the history of the Democratic party for the manifestation of loyalty and patriotism on the part of its members, it is right now.

If we are to win a victory and elect a President two years hence, we must first elect a House of Representatives this fall. A Democratic House can and will investigate every department of the Government. With all of them honeycombed by "graft," the edges of which only have been touched by recent exposure and prosecutions, there will be a revelation of rottenness that will astound the country, and create a demand for a Democratic administration to clean the Government workshop.

To win the House we need money to defray legitimate expenses and to defray legitimate expenses and get out our vote. We have no protected monopolies from which to draw to fill our coffers, as they do those of the Republican party. We must, therefore, appeal to loyal Democrats for contributions.

Will you send us $1.00 at once, and in return for this we will send you copies of our campaign literature issued by the Committee. You will have the thanks of the entire Democratic party for your favorable response to our request.

Address all remittances to

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Sue Bussey was born April 11, 1854, and died Oct. 21, 1906. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1866, when she was twelve years old.

She was married Dec. 24, 1877, to Mr. F. R. Bussey, of Busseyville, to this union was born four children, all boys, one of which died when he was small. She leaves a husband and three boys. Aunt Sue, as she was familiarly called was loved by all who knew her. She was 52 years, 6 months and 10 days old. She was a devoted wife, a loving mother, kind and obliging neighbor and a true friend. She was a devoted Christian always for the right.

Mrs. Bussey had been the Superintendent of the S. S. for 10 years and under her management it was one of the best Sunday Schools in the county. We realize that in her death the church has lost a valuable member, the Sunday School a Superintendent, whose place will be hard to fill. Her loss to the community from our point of view can not be filled. Her husband's sense of loss is only that which a true and devoted husband feels for a true and loving wife. Her boys feel the loss very sorely.

Her Christian influence was not only felt by those of her own immediate friends and neighbors, but it reached others outside of her own neighborhood.

A nobler character than hers could not be found. It was always pleasant to be in her home and engage in conversation that was always pleasant. In her death the loss is from our point of view irreparable. In the church, in the Sunday School and in the home, but God knows what is best and we must bow in humble submission to this dispensation of his providence. Why she was taken in the midst of her usefulness is not for us to say, but that she is gone to the land of the blessed. We have no doubt nothing could make us believe, but in this providence, we may be able to see the hand of God for he knows what is best.

Her burial was attended by a large crowd of people and her funeral was preached by Rev. Davenport, of Greenup. The music was furnished by Mrs. Josephine Rice, of Louisa. Her body was laid to rest in the family grave yard over looking her home. Vendetta.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle.

For the sake of your children strive to know something about everything.

Teach children the law of kindness. That is needed all through life and everywhere.

Many christians think it a bad sign to be jubilant and their work of self examination is a hewing down of their brighter experiences. Like a boy with a new jackknife, hacking everything he comes across, so their self examination is a religious cutting to pieces of the greenest things they can lay their hands. They imagine they are doing God's service when they go about borrowing trouble, and borrowing it at thirty per cent, which is always a sure precursor of bankruptcy.

Everything is pretty much of a size in this world - even our troubles, trials and difficulties. If our troubles are little we magnify them; if large we magnify them; so that everybody gets a fair average with everybody else, both of the good and evil. Go to the happiest person you know and pour into his or her ear your tale of woe, and see how quickly he or she can show you that your trials are a small circumstance to their own. You are having as good a time as anybody else in this world - so don't ask for sympathy.

For a good, everyday household angel give us a woman who laughs. Her biscuit may not be always just right, and she may occasionally burn her bread and forget to replace dislocated buttons, but for solid comfort all day and every day she is a paragon. Home is not a battlefield nor life one long unending row. The trick of always seeing the bright side, of shining up the dark one, is a very important faculty, one of the things no woman should be without. We are not all born with the sunshine in our hearts, as the Irish prettily phrase it, but we can cultivate a cheerful sense of humor of we only try.

Many mothers imagine their daughter's fortune is made when she learns enough to thump on a piano, or labors enough to daub a cheap chromo or to wrok a yellow dog on a door mat. Girls are to glad to be spoiled in that way. Teach them to command a regiment of pots and kettles; teach them to make good bread, good coffee; teach them to make garments and patch them when they need it. Teach them physical development; teach them it is more cruel and less christian for American women to cramp and distort their lungs, liver and stomach, than it is for the Hottentots to press their heads flat, or for the Chinese to make their feet small. Good, healthy and industrious girls make happy homes, good wives and mothers.

A mother writes us, "What shall I teach my daughters?" This one important and tremendous fact, my sister, that there is no happiness in this world for an idle woman. It may be with hand, it may be with brain, it may be with foot; butwork she must or be wretched forever. The little girls of our families must be started with that idea. The first lesson should be how, under God, they may take care of themselves. The simple fact is that a majority of them to have to take care of themselves, and that, too, after having, through the false notions of their parents, wasted the years in which they ought to have learned how to maintain themselves successfully. It is inhuman and cruel for any father or mother to pass their daughters into womanhood having given them no facility for earning their livelihood. Madame de Stael said: "It is not these writings that I am proud of, but the fact that I have facility in ten occupations, in any one of which I could make a livelihood." We should teach our daughters that work of any kind, when necessary, is a credit and honor to them. It is a shame for a daughter to be idle while her mother toils at the wash tub. It is as honorable to sweep the house, make beds, cook and wash dishes, or trim hats as it is to twist a watch chain or embroider a slipper.

stealing, murdering, and certainly there would not be as many tramps as there are now days.

If, father, mother, sister, brother, would each remember that it depends upon them to make home happy, how much better it would be. But many a careless word spoken has wounded the hearts of the whole household. What is home without sunshine? What is home without cheerfulness? Can any of you answer these questions?

Do you blame the young man for not wanting to spend his evening at home, when, upon entering the house, some one will commence finding fault?

All have faults, some more than others, and it is the duty of each parent to speak kindly to their children concerning their faults; by so doing you will conquer; if on the other hand you begin to find fault, you will fail.

Brother, sister, treat each other kindly, let not a careless word be spoken, you will never regret that you did so.

For in time to come, when you have reached manhood or womanhood and look back upon the years gone by, you will rave the pleasure of saying to yourselves and others this dear old stanza:—

From allurements abroad which but flatter the eye
My unsatisfied heart turns and says with a sigh,
Home, home, sweet, sweet home
let each strive to make our home as agreeable and happy as possible so that we may say that there is no place on earth to us like,—"Home sweet home."

HON. JAMES N. KEHOE, of Mason County.

Vote for Kehoe, the man who does things for his constituents.

Senator J. W. Newman, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, was here last Friday and made a most favorable impression on the people. He is a farmer and while in the State Senate secured the enactment of some of the best laws that have been made in the interest of the farmers.

In his speeches Judge S. W. Hager defines any man to truthfully show a single wrong act that he has committed as Treasurer or Auditor. The printing contract about which Hayes talks was advertised and let according to law and the Auditor could not change the law, even if he knew the price was too high. The fault was with the law and not the official who executed it.

Go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for Kehoe. Do not stay away on the theory that your vote will not be counted. There may be many others inclined to stay at home for the same reason. A dozen stay-at-homes changed the result in this district when Mordcaï Williams was defeated. Let every supporter of Kehoe talk to his neighbors who are for him and urge them to go and vote.

Hayes, candidate for Governor, has disgusted Democrats throughout the State. As Attorney General he has proved a failure and practically admits that he has not stood guard for the people as his oath of office requires. He has absented himself from nearly all the meetings important to the people. Instead of trying to make a record that would commend him to the people for higher honors he depends upon being chosen as "the lesser of two evils." He is not the man to nominate.

Still, it cannot be denied that the George B. Cortelyou who is to become Secretary of the Treasury is the one and same George B. Cortelyou who served as fat-frier-in-chief during the notorious campaign of 1904. He is the same George B. Cortelyou who levied on the insurance fascals for a campaign fund, under cover, while Theodore Roosevelt denied in the open — denied vehemently and hot-headedly, and with epithets — the charges made to that very effect by Judge Alton Brooks Parker. He is the same George B. Cortelyou, moreover, who now holds down the excessively political office known as the chairmanship of the National Republican Committee.

Mr. Cortelyou may be an able man, a loyal Republican, a hard worker, a self-made success, and he may be as highly exalted among mortals as actually to bask in the celestial sunshine of Theodore Roosevelt's personal favor, but, still, as we have indicated, he is the same George B. Cortelyou, and we reserve our right as a free American to linger on the thought and call the attention of the public to it.

Big Sandy river received $431,000.00 under Congressman Kehoe's administration. His successor has secured nothing for Big Sandy river.

In Congress Mr. Kehoe secured for the Ninth District nearly two-fifths of all the money appropriated for Kentucky for public buildings. The last session of Congress gave Kentucky over $500,000 for this purpose and the Ninth was "not in it." Kehoe believes he would have secured $200,000 of the amount if he had been the Representative, because this district has not had as much from this source as others. Instead of $200,000 only $10,000 comes to the Ninth and that is for a government building site in Catlettsburg.

The only Democrat in Maysville who does not vote for Hon. James N. Kehoe is a Catholic priest. He fights Mr. Kehoe because he sends his children to the public schools and advocates continual improvement in this great institution. Also, because he contributes to Sunday Schools, protestant churches, and to all other good causes just as he sees fit. Again, because Mr. Kehoe favors restriction of undesirable immigration. Are there any voters in Lawrence county who believe that Mr. Kehoe's position in these matters is wrong? We believe not. Go to the polls and make up for the loss of "Father" Jones' vote.

Mr. Kehoe says he believes the enormous sums of money being spent in the Philippines should be applied to building good roads throughout the United States, and improving our rivers and harbors. He shows that enough money has been spent there already to have licked and dammed all our rivers that need it, improve all the harbors, irrigate all the arid lands, erect government buildings in all towns and cities of 1,000 population and over that have not such buildings, and build all the most-needed roads of our country. Think what all of this would be worth to us and then try to conceive of any benefits we are receiving or may hope to get from the ownership of the Philippines Islands. Don't you believe Mr. Kehoe is right?

John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, spoke in Cynthia in the interest of J. N. Kehoe Democratic nominee for Congress in the Ninth district. Mr. Williams said he knew of no man who measured up higher in personal qualifications for the office than did Mr. Kehoe. He condemned Republican inconsistency and falseness and devoted much time to discussion of the tariff. His speech was warmly applauded by the crowd which filled the Circuit Court room.

Said Mr. Williams in the beginning: "After having to run to get the train and then missing connection and coming through in an automobile, I am here, somewhat the worse for wear; but all this is but a slight indication of the desire I have to see Jim Kehoe come back to Washington as the Congressman from this district. For I know how much good he can do for you and for the State if he does go back there. We have missed him in Washington since the last election. I admit I was astonished when I heard that Jim Kehoe had been beaten down here. I had thought that he would be sent back without any question, from what I saw when I was down here two years ago. I expect now that you are also astonished, and sorry as well, that you sent the other man instead."

Mr. Williams said there are two things to be considered in selecting a Congressman: First, the party equation and then the personal equation. The party equation, he said, means the measure which the party to which he belongs will be committed to and for which they will stand. He said he believed he could convince them later that the Democratic party is the only right party which stands for the right. Taking up then the personal qualities which go to make up a Congressman of the right sort, he said the first question which would be asked was:

"Is he competent? Has he the training, the temperament and the ability? Is he honest? This means is his motive sincere and that he will fight for the right. Is he faithful, constant, assiduous and industrious? These are the questions which will be asked."

Quilting.

On lost Saturday, Mrs. James Clayton invited to her pretty farm home about thirty guests for a quilting party, which all so much enjoyed in work, conversation and music. 'Twas a pleasing testimonial of friendship for her guests, Mrs. Dr. York and Mrs. Belle Johns McClelland. The dinner was certainly a feast of good things, which so bountifully and well served by the hospitable hostess and her skilled assistants.

The angel of death has again visited our midst and taken from us our loved one, Mrs. Rosa Wellman, wife of Lindsey Wellman. She has been a great sufferer from that dreaded disease, consumption. She leaves a husband and three children and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

For years to come she will be sadly missed. There was nothing lacking to complete this beautiful character, she realized she must go and was ready for the summons to come. Weep not dear ones, weep not for Rosa, but prepare to meet her in Heaven.

Her funeral by request was preached to a large congregation by Rev. Melroy Copley and as then peacefully laid to rest in the family graveyard. We extend our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved family.

THE FARM.

HOW TO HINDER LOSS.

Perhaps the most simple way of hindering the loss of manure in all the ways named above is to keep the stock in the pasture as much as possible. In some sections of Indiana and Illinois the farmers are realizing this fact and have entirely done away with the cow lot. At night as well as during the day the stock is kept in the pasture. After a tract has been in pasture two or three years, the pasture is changed to another part of the farm and the old pasture land is put to crops. In this way the manure is applied to the soil before there is any loss, so that when the rain falls the plant food in the mass is washed into the soil. If manure is applied in this way there need no loss whatever.

In the same section named the manure that is voided in the lots and barn is carefully saved and applied without loss. Enough bedding is used to absorb all the urine, and, where it is possible, an old wagon or the manure spreader is kept standing at the barn and as fast as the material accumulates it is thrown into the wagon or spreader and carted at once to the field. If it is impossible to cart it to the field, it is piled under a manure shed and only enough water is applied to hinder fermentation. That is, the heap is kept wet all time, but it is not soaked so the water will leach through it.

If manure must be piled in a heap, it should be under a shed on the north side of a barn. In this way the excessive moisture is kept out, the manure is kept cooler than it would be if exposed to the sun on the south side of a building. Then it should be kept moist and compact. In France manure plants are arranged so that water can occasionally be pumped over the manure. In some sections of the east the manure sheds are so constructed that the roof can be opened when it is raining and enough water admitted to amply wet the mass, after which the excess can be carried off by closing the roof.

Another excellent method is known as the "lazy man's way." Leave the manure in the stall till you can cart it to the field. I was in a barn not long since where the mangers and feed boxes were to allow the stall to fill with manure. By leaving the manure in the stall, the horses keep it amply compact and the urine keeps it amply moist. When it is carted to the field, practically all of the fertility is still contained in it.

If the farmer has an average farm and is growing the average crops of his section, it can be seen that the best, as well as the most simple method, is to rotate his pasture with the crops. In every case except where truck gardens prevail, the most practical way to get manure to the soil before it loses any of its elements of fertility is to have the stock apply it to the soil in the way suggested. This is practically the only way by which it may be applied without any loss. If it is allowed to remain in a heap at the barn, or even pile up in the stall, no matter how much care is exercised there will be some loss.

MANURE IN THE SOUTHWEST.

I wish to especially dwell on the importance of saving all the manure in the west and southwest. We often hear the remark made by the real estate agents and the newcomers of the newer sections of the west and southwest, that the soil is inexhaustible. They wish to leave the impression that, no matter how heavy the crops may be, the soil is able to continue the growth of those crops and never wear out. To such farmers I wish to especially insist that the soil of these sections will wear out as well as the soils of the east. The Almighty never made a soil that will not wear out. It may take a little longer to wear out the soil of these sections, but they will wear out some time. When the supply of humus is allowed to run low, the soil will have lost a great deal of its ability to produce crops, no matter how much insoluble plant food it may contain.

With the danger of the soil wearing out confronting the farmer of these sections, it is necessary for him to learn the secret of how to maintain the fertility of the soil. The best and simplest way to do this is to follow the rotation that has been suggested in The Journal of Agriculture from time to time and see to it that the manure produced by the animals in this rotation is applied to the soil before it has lost any of its fertilizing elements by any of the ways named above.

If the farmer of these sections would keep enough stock to consume all the roughness and forage produced on the farm, change the pastures systematically and regularly, grow a legume in rotation with other crops, and, above all, see to it that all of the manure produced by the stock is returned to the soil before it loses any of its fertilizing elements, it will be a long time before his soil wears out. If, however, he continues to grow heavy and exhaustive crops year after year, with no effort to return any of the fertility removed by these crops, the time will come sooner than he now expects, when his soil will not yield him the bountiful returns it is now yielding. To Mutual Life Policy Holders.

For nearly twenty years I have lived among you as General Agent of the Mutual Life. I have tried to serve you honestly, faithfully, and conscientiously. How well I have succeeded remains for you to say.

I refused to be intimidated or coerced by the administration into working for the election of the McCurdy trustees who were in control of your company when the standing disclosures were brought out by Hon. Charles E. Hughes, of New York, and the Armstrong Investigating Committee. These men are still in full control of the company.

Will you by your votes continue them in power? They are freely using your vast agency and clerical organizations and your money in a desperate effort to re-elect themselves to office. Will you stand for them? Will you endorse the intimidation and coercion of your agents?

The two tickets nominated by the policy holders are both excellent, the United Committees' Ticket and the Selected Fusion Ticket. While my name is on the Fusion Ticket I assure you that I am absolutely indifferent to my own election. I want you to vote for the ticket, which you think gives you the best chance to win against the Administration Ticket. The Kentucky Life Policy Holders' Association and the Tennessee Life Policy Holders Association have unanimously endorsed the United Committees' Ticket and are urging all policy holders to vote for it. Any ballots mailed to me will receive proper attention. Ballots for the United Committees' Ticket may also be mailed to Hon. Richard Olney, 30 Broad St., New York, and the Fusion Ticket to Albert S. Ward, 25 Broad St., New York.

From now until the polls are closed on December 18th, I shall give my time, energy and money to your most righteous cause. This is the first opportunity you have ever had to get control of your property. The Legislature of New York legislated the McCurdy trustees out of office on December 18 1905. Make them stay out. Put them out for good. Your only here is in yourselves. If you do not win now, you might just as well rub out the idea of mutuality from your company forever. Vote to-day.

Sincerely yours,

BISCOE HINDMAN.

Scarcy of Hickory Wood.

Hickory, one of, if not the most valuable of our native woods, has become so scarce that many substitutes have of necessity been found for it. The wonderful increase in the demand for buggies and carriages of the finer class had much to do with the virtual exhaustion of the great American hickory forests. England, Germany, China, Australia, South Africa and the South American countries made strong requisition on the American supply. Years ago the supply of this fine wood north of the Ohio river had been exhausted. Despite substitutes and changed conditions, hickory remains one of the most valuable of American woods.—Baltimore-Herald.

From Cuba.

Camp Columbia, Havana, Cuba, 18th Mountain Battery.

We left Vancouver Barracks, Wash. Oct. 1st, for Newport News, Va., where we sailed for Havana and arrived here on the 14th. We are in camp eight miles outside Havana at an old fort occupied by the Spanish before the war of 1898.

Our first engagement was on the night of the 17th, when we were attacked by a hurricane. The storm was at its worst at 8 p. m. and continued all night. Our tents went up as if they were balloons. The storm succeeded in routing us and we were forced to retreat, and found refuge in an old shack about three hundred yards from camp. We were beaten down many times before we reached the place of refuge. Some, however, were blown against fences, posts and e. c., and were badly injured. As for myself I escaped unhurt. Our clothing, equipments and etc., were blown all over the surrounding country. Great damage was done, although few lives were lost among the soldiers. Havana suffered great loss of both life and property.

We are very comfortably situated at present, as we are quartered in Barracks, and it is generally believed that we will be here for at least eight months. The natives are very kind toward us and we expect to have little if any trouble. According to Havana news papers there are fourteen cases of yellow fever in the island, and ten of them in Havana proper. We are forbidden to go to the city and every effort is being used to prevent the disease from entering the camp. There are about 5,000 soldiers in camp and one case of typhoid in the hospital.

With best wishes to the NEWS and its readers I remain, a boy from Lawrence, Marion M. Soard.

The announcement that Mr. Douglas Emerson Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hughes, of this city, and Miss Annetta Tiernan, superintendent at the Huntington Hospital, were quietly married at Greenup, Ky., on October 3rd, will doubtless be surprising to the many friends of both parties, and yet such is really true. On October 3rd the couple went to Greenup where the ceremony was performed, and returned to this city, announcing the marriage to only the members of Mr. Hughes' family. It being their intention to keep the affair secret for a time, no formal announcement was made. Mr. Hughes is well known throughout the State, and has played quite a prominent part in the political affairs of the Republican party in recent years, and at present holds the position of Private Secretary to his brother, Congressman James A. Hughes. Mrs. Hughes is the daughter of Judge J. M. Tiernan, of Wayne, and is a young lady of splendid intellectual accomplishments. For several months she has been at the head of the Huntington Hospital, and has accomplished much for that institution. She is a graduate of one of the greatest eastern schools for trained nurses, and is, socially, a woman of rare attractions. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will reside in Huntington for present—Huntington Dispatch.

Mr. Hughes is a brother of Postmaster A. M. Hughes, and is well-known in Louisa.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BIG SANDY

Has A Candidate for Governor.
He Is A Winner.

For the first time in history the Big Sandy section of Kentucky has a winning candidate for Governor. His name is Judge S. Wilbur Hager, and if all Big Sandy counties give him the unanimous vote to which he is entitled, there is no doubt about his nomination and election. The Governorship has been Mr. Hager's laudable ambition for several years and he has built up a following from all parts of the State, making him a formidable candidate. The unfair character of campaign made by the other candidate, N. B. Hayes, has reacted upon him. Mr. Hayes stated only a part of the truth in connection with his charges, not telling the whole truth and all sides of the matter, as this would put another light upon the subject. Well posted men throughout the States who heard Mr. Hayes promptly declared him unfair and unwise, and not fit to be made the nominee for Governor. He disgusted almost every man who desires the success of the party.

Judge S. W. Hager.

Mr. Hager was born and reared in Magoffin county and for several years has been a citizen of Boyd county. He was first elected Judge of Boyd county, overcoming by his personal popularity the large Republican majority. He has since served his State faithfully as Treasurer and Auditor. The Governorship is his goal. His home people can put him here by coming out to the Primary next Tuesday in full force and casting their ballots for him. "Big Sandy Against the World," is a favorite expression of our people and this is an instance in which all her citizens should stand together against the world.

The writer can say from positive knowledge that Mr. Hager is not a member of the "Machine" that we hear so much about. Recently there came a test of the influence of Mr. Hager and the Machine with the State Executive Committee of the State. Hager won and the talk about the Machine controlling the State Committee is no longer true. The Committee, with one notable exception, is composed of very honorable men. They knew that in supporting Mr. Hager in preference to others, they are serving their party well and doing right.

Hayes' speeches for several weeks have been made up entirely of vilification of his opponent and a few others. So far as we can learn every man who heard Mr. Hager's manly defense against these attacks is for him.

Vote Twice.

It is not very often that Democrats are allowed to vote twice on the same day, but on next Tuesday they will have a chance of this kind and they should avail themselves of it. The primary election and the regular Congressional election will be held on the same day. Different officers will, of course, conduct the two elections, but the voting places will be as near each other as practicable.

Following is a list of the candidates in the order in which they will appear on the ballot:

For Governor—
N. B. Hayes.....
S. W. Hager.....
For Attorney General—
J. K. Hendrick.....
Lillard H. Carter.....

Sam Jones' Best Sayings.

God can't elect any man unless he is a candidate.

The biggest fool is the woman who will set as barkeeper for her husband.

I'll wear garments made of wire before I'll wear garments made of 30 cents a dozen.

Every barroom is a recruiting office for hell.

Sow whisky and you will reap drunkards.

Christ won't stay in a house with the cellar full of whisky.

Sow little parties and reap big ones. Sow these and reap ballrooms. Sow these and reap germans, and from these reap spider legged dudes, and from these you'll reap a half thimbleful of calves' foot jelly.

There is such a thing as the race running out in dudes and God knows I am glad of it.

The most demoralizing and damning thing and the most insidious is the city club.

I have seen men converted from the barroom and from everything else, but never, never have I seen a man converted from a club.

I never saw a first-class billiard player who was worth the powder and lead to kill him.

What is a town woman, but a country woman, with Sunday clothes on?

I'd rather be dead than be in fashion.

The more bent, mashed and warped the lady's hat is the more fashionable it is.

Shall I ask your little dudes and dudines how to preach the gospel?

A little party is only a big one with short skirts on.

Religion don't help a fellow to quit his meanness, but it helps him to stay quit.

Doubts are but the children of sin.

Repentance is quitting your meanness.

I'm not a muddy physicion, and I am not kin to any.

Infidelity is nine-tenths mouth.

Give your hearts to God and he will comb the kinks out of your head.

An honest man who's seeking after God is as sure of heaven as the man who is on a full tilt after glory.

I've got as much respect for these fellows with striped clothes as I have for you who hop around at every tap of the devil's drum.

If ever my daughters cut off any of their skirts, I don't want them to cut from the top.

Roads.

I take this opportunity to answer several letters I have received concerning roads in this county. I am in favor of good roads and will do all in my power to have good roads for there is nothing our county needs more and nothing would help our farms more. So many people are ignorant concerning the duties and power of the county Judge. He has the same power ordinarily that any other Magistrate of the County as to repairing bridges and filling up mud holes etc.

The Supervisor, Mr. Queen, has charge of the road money for the county and is the only man who can contract any road work for the county.

He is a good road man and his post office is Estep, Ky. He says there will be money enough for the year 1907 to keep the bridges in repair and place back some of those washed out last summer.

I have appointed good men for overseers over the county, and it is their duty to see that every road hand puts in his time or report him to the nearest Magistrate or to the County Judge.

A man who is not willing to do his part on the roads is not a good citizen, and nine times out often, he is detrimental to his county.

Now let each good farmer and wagoner take an interest in filling up the mud holes in front of their gates and homes and feel like they are benefiting themselves instead of the man in the moon and we will soon have good roads and until the good citizens take this interest we can not have good roads with the amount of money and labor we have.

RAILROAD WATCHES.

New supply of 17, 19 and 21 jeweled watches just received at Conley's store. These watches are suitable for railroad men or others who want accurate time. Some of them were bought at less than regular price and will be sold accordingly.

The above shows Congressman Kehoe in a coal opening up Big Sandy river while on a tour of inspection to better fit himself for telling Congress about Big Sandy's undeveloped wealth. Big Sandy river secured $450,000 during Mr. Kehoe's service in Congress. $10,000 is the extent of the appropriation during Mr. Bennett's term. This aptly illustrates the difference in the ability and energy of the two men and the results they secure.

The NEWS presents below a synopsis of the records of James N. Kehoe, democratic nominee for Congress, and J. B. Bennett, the republican who seeks re-election. Their records speak for themselves.

Secured the passage of bills appropriating $431,000 for the improvement of rivers and the erection of public building in this district, all of which sum has been expended within the limits of the district.

Secured appropriations amounting to $250,000 for payment for horses and side-arms taken from Confederate soldiers contrary to the terms of surrender, many thousands of which money has been paid to resident of this district.

Secured favorable action on sundry just claims of citizens of this district that had been pending before Congress for years. Among the claims was that of St. Andrews Masonic Lodge, of Cynthiana, and the Baptist Church at Flemingsburg.

Made report of committee to the House upon Kentucky War Claims, which resulted in the State securing over $1,300,000. The claim had lain dormant since the war until Mr. Kehoe's favorable report on it from the war claims committee. It was paid in full shortly thereafter.

Secured a favorable report from committee authorizing the construction of public building at Cynthiana, and it would have become a law had a public building bill been passed before his retirement.

A public building bill was passed during the last session, but Mr. Bennett was not able, or did not try, to hold Cynthiana in the favorable position Mr. Kehoe had placed her, and she lost out.

Secured the passage of a general law governing the printing of members' franks for use in the Agricultural Department, which saved the government more than his salary each year.

Secured the passage of a number of special acts increasing the pensions of deserving old soldiers of the Mexican and Civil wars.

Was author and original advocate of the policy that the United States should own the land over which the Panama Canal should be built.

Had pending at the time of retirement the following worthy bills.

To increase pensions of soldiers' widows to $12 per month.

To pay funeral expenses, not exceeding $50, of old soldiers who died without any estate.

To furnish to each public school in the country one of the large government wall maps free of charge.

None of these bills were re-introduced by Mr. Bennett, and no effort was made upon his part to enact them into laws.

Mr. Kehoe secured the establishment of 56 Rural Free Delivery Routes for the farmers in the district.

Kehoe missed but 16 roll calls during his first session in Congress.

Bennett missed 36.

BENNETT

Secured $10,000 for purchase of a site at Catlettsburg for public building.

Secured the passage of several private pension bills.

Secured establishment of 3 Rural Free Delivery Routes.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

H. N. Fischer, of Webbville, Ky., has bought 1,000 acres of virgin timber in West Virginia, and is about to close a contract for 4,000 acres more.

The most valuable coal mined in Kentucky was in Morgan county, where the average price per ton was $2.29. The average per ton value for the State is ninety-nine cents.

Owingsville, Ky., October 25. — Cleveland Pergram, who shot and killed Tom Jones last Saturday at Olympia, surrendered to Deputy Sheriff A. N. Crooks this morning. He will be tried October 20.

R. D. Wilson and Henry Seagraves have organized the Vanceburg Handle Co., to manufacture pick, axe and hammer handles, wagon and buggy spokes, etc. Machinery has been purchased.

Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 26. — Baker Crawford, of Salt Lick, this county, while back home from Ashland, where he went to work, fell under a freight train and both his legs were cut off above the knees. He will die.

The grand jurors for Butler township, Wayne county, for the November court are Chilton Wilson, William Bean and James Cyrus.

The petit jurors are Lem Johnson, Peter Hatfield, Anthony Plymale, J. M. York and S. P. Ferguson.

Dr. James Bloss, of Ceredo, and Miss Garnett Coleman were married at the bride's residence at Chestire, Ohio, Wednesday morning at half past eight. The wedding was performed in the presence of a few friends and relatives, the impressive Episcopal ceremony being used.

Col. S. L. Bays was appointed Master Commissioner of the Carter Circuit Court by Judge Redwine today. J. Bell Prichard was promised the place, so he has claimed for weeks, but when the time to call "keno" rolled around, the plum number was not on his paddle. Who was it marked that politics is h—? —Grayson Bugle.

Messrs. J. W. Knopsnyder and W. D. Nydegger, of Elkins, W. Va., are reported as having sold several tracts of timber to the Wyoming Lumber Company, of West Virginia. The property embraces 800 acres on Red Creek, Dry Fork; 250 1-2 acres on the east side and top of Allegheny mountain, Union District, Pendleton county, and 518 acres on the east and near the top of Allegheny mountain, at the headwaters of Long Run. The purchase price is stated at $66,700.

Monday morning, shortly before eight o'clock, as Elmer Blankenship, of Ashland, was on his way to school, he attempted to hop an East bound C. and O. freight, at 29th street, when he was thrown under the train, the wheels passing over his body severing the legs just below the hips. The unfortunate lad was taken to the home of his father, John Blankenship, corner of Carter avenue and 29th street, and Doctors J. M. Salmon and W. A. Berry summoned, but the boy was past medical aid, and they could do nothing but relieve the sufferings until death came at ten o'clock.

Died on the 17th of October about 10:30 p. m., on Wolfe creek, Martin county, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Uriah Hariman, Mr. Alexander Gause. Mr. Gause was born on Kanawha river, near Brownstown, then Virginia, now West Virginia, in 1802. He moved to Wolfe creek from his birthplace, with his wife and two or three children, and at that time was a portion of Lawrence county. He settled on a small tract of land which he owned until a short time prior to his death, when he deeded it to his daughter, Mrs. Hariman, who so kindly administered to him in his last affliction.

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 25. — Captain F. A. Williamson, foreman of the extra gang on the yards here, was attending to the duties of his position and had occasion to step across the track just as a string of loose cars started down the incline. Amid the noise of the yards, he did not hear them coming, nor did he hear the cry of one of his men, as his attention was drawn to something else. He was struck by the foremost car and three of them passed over his body before they could be stopped. Both arms were cut off and the head terribly mangled. Death was probably instantaneous.

Willard Ilderton, a young farmer residing on Daniel's Fork of Hood's creek, about 6 miles back of Ashland, committed suicide by hanging Friday night.

From what we can learn, it seems that Ilderton's domestic life has not been altogether a bed of roses, and that he and his wife have had considerable differences for a year or two. The report goes that he and his wife had a row that evening, and that he threatened suicide, but she gave little thought to this.

Ilderton left the house. Later on Mrs. Ilderton went in search of her husband and found him hanging lifeless from a rafter in the smokehouse. He had fastened a trace chain to the rafter and to his neck, and then jumped out a window. This occurred about 10 o'clock.

Michael Burke, aged 106 years, the oldest resident of Ohio, died Tuesday at the residence of his son in Newark. He formerly resided in Ashland, Ky.

It is healthful and moral, has access to two railroads and slackwater navigation, natural gas, water works, and all modern facilities.
